Published by

The Class of 1952, New Bedford Vocational High School

Foreword

We have recorded briefly the story of our four years at Voke in the following pages. May they recall at some future reading the bright days of those treasured years. To the staff and our advisors we are most grateful for their help.

—The Editors

Class Motto

Nothing is impossible to a willing heart.

Mr. William R. Mackintosh

The Class of 1952 will always look back with deep appreciation on the kind and stimulating leadership of Mr. William R. Mackintosh. In him we always had an understanding and wise counselor. We shall long remember his inspiring guidance.

Mr. Z. Walter Janiak

We, the boys of the Class of 1952, deem it a privilege to dedicate this book to Mr. Z. Walter Janiak in appreciation of his loyal service to New Bedford Vocational High School. He has given untiringly of his effort in assisting Mr. Mackintosh in coaching sports.

To him go our wishes for continuing success.

Miss Amy Baker

The girls of the graduating class of 1952 respectfully dedicate "The Mariner" to Miss Amy Baker in appreciation of her loyalty to us.

She has contributed much to make our four years at N. B. V. H. S. enjoyable ones.

We hope that each year in the future will bring her the happiness that she so rightfully deserves.

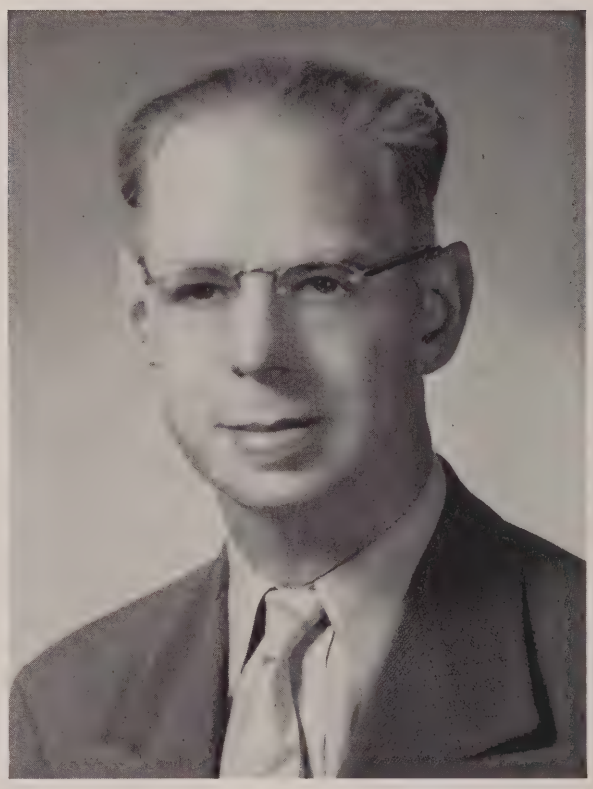
Mr. Harold Kenworthy

In Appreciation



Mr. Kenworthy holds an unchallenged niche at New Bedford Vocational High School. As the Instructor of Industrial Design, he receives many requests for special work to which he readily responds with fine examples of student craftsmanship in signs and posters. His beautifully designed backgrounds for Christmas Assemblies and the Christmas scenes for the annual display at the New Bedford Free Public Library executed by his students are among our outstanding memories.

A member of the New Bedford Art Group, Mr. Kenworthy has been active in planning exhibitions by local artists. His own work has received wide acclaim for the variety of media in which he works as well as for excellence of technique.

Mr. Kenworthy's merit as an instructor is substantiated by the success of his pupils in regional and national contests. For the past twelve years they have received recognition in annual competition. Albert Costa, Jr., John Brown, Lawrence Gonsalves, Raymond Matesich. Normand Perryman and Lawrence Poyant had designs in the 1952 Regional Scholastic Art Exhibition at the New England Mutual Insurance Auditorium in Boston. Only 800 entries out of 4000 submitted were shown. From these, 200 were awarded the gold key and forwarded to Carnegie Institute for national competition. Albert Costa, Jr., Normand Perryman, and Leonard Poyant were so honored. Raymond Matesich's entry was sent to Pittsburgh to be considered for a special art scholarship.

We are proud to have a man like Mr. Kenworthy on the Vocational faculty. We who have been closely associated with him as his students gratefully acknowledge his influence and interest in us and our ambitions.

School Song

Mids't the spires of old New Bedford
Waves the white and green
Stands our glorious school Vocational
Noblest ever seen.

CHORUS:

Let our voices raised in chorus
Loud her glory sing,
And the praises of Vocational
Through our fair land ring.
Loyal graduates from her portals
Bring to Industry
All their skill and all their knowledge,
To them – Honor Be.

Prophecy

Class Prophecy

It is early dawn on the windswept plains of the New Mexico Rocket Testing Grounds. An expectant hush has fallen over the crowd gathered to see the take off on this decisive morning of May, 1962.

Now to take you back a few months for a telescopic view of the experiences leading up to this stupendous event. One day the multi-millionaire, George Rogers, (of course we knew he would make it), decided to back a daring expedition to the planet Mars. That enterprising newshound, Geri Avellar, got wind of the story and had it printed in her paper, "The Scandal Sheet".

Her all woman staff is composed of Janet Sowle, editor-in-chief, and Pat Lundrigan, printer. There are only two members of the staff and they work for nothing because that's all Geri can afford to pay. When the paper hit the streets, those noisy newshawks, Antoine Bertrand and Johnny Walker, shouted the story.

In a few hours the news had traveled around the world. In answer to this amazing disclosure hundreds of letters poured in requesting reservations on the super-sonic rocket ship.

Those two daredevils of the upper stratosphere, Ray Dupont and Dennis Henzel, wasted no time in writing, but appeared in person to offer their services as pilots. Following in their footsteps were Robert Thompson, a so called draftsman, and two internationally known industrial designers, "Mala", otherwise known as Albert Costa, and Ray "Matchstick" Matesich. As their plans were already drawn up, we didn't have the heart to turn those poor souls out.

The plans were ready to be put into operation. Two companies placed their bids, one the well-known team of Seddon and Stone and the other called "The Unknown and Untried Construction Company" of Floyd Carr and Phillip Lefebvre. As both were in desperate need of financial aid, it was decided our millionaire could afford to hire both teams. And now we return to the scene at the testing grounds.

The first thing we noticed is the wonderful aroma of food cooking. Having read of this project, courageous Mary Antunes has set up her "Wonder Kitchen On Wheels" accompanied by her expert sampler of food, Alzada Martel, still stirring the pot with one hand and eating with the other. Also in her employ are the girls about whom Mrs. Oldfield once remarked, "The day these girls make a perfect dessert, I'll raise a flag." Cynthia Shkolnick, Gertrude Cathcart and Shirley Hamer are still trying to raise that flag.

Of course, first in line is Franklin Olivierre and behind him, all racing for second place are Gordon Beale, George Machado and Donald Boehler. You'll never guess who makes second place — that ambitious fellow, William Murray.

We pass on to another part of the field and find that those two mad scientists, Stan Dudek and Ernest Vohnoutka had harnessed the atomic power and completed the rocket ship. It is no secret who has done all the brain work, those lovely assistants, Eunice Hacking and "Mina" Lafleur.

The hour finally arrives and our christening ceremony is about to begin. Richard Camillo's quintet starts off with a splash as Lucille Lopes, so enthusiastic about strumming on the washboard, falls into the tub of water. Lucille Motta, standing nearby plucking on a mandolin, lets out a howl and begins that old familiar tune "My Buddy". Interrupting this mournful tune is David Lawrence with his opening speech "Friends, — you are my friends" This could go on for eternity, but Louis Sylvia broke the soda pop bottle over the nose of the ship and ends the ceremonies.

Up in a tree is that ambitious photographer, Bill Norse, who still owes us pictures from our first Senior Social. Trying to follow him are his assistants, Stephanie Gula, Joyce Cruz, Joan Gibbs and Gayle Kizer, loaded down with all his paraphernalia (in other words, junk).

You have heard of the cowgirl on that antique "Ken Murray T. V. Show". Well, here is the modern version, Cow Bell (Sophie) Sobolewski, signalling that it is time to go aboard.

The jets let out a roar and we're on our way. Looking out at the excited crowd, we catch a glimpse of Rosalie DaLuz, James Moore, Rene Davignon and Albert DeSouza. Travelling through space, we come across a neon sign advertising the "Cloud Box Salon" run by those two angels, Kathleen "Bubbles" Kruczek and Patricia "Chick" Ratajack.

All of a sudden we hear a strange noise behind us. Turning around, we glimpse Irene Pigeon and Alberta Lavoie in their home-made supersonic orange crate. I guess all we will see is a glimpse because bo———ing that's the end of them. Noticing trouble with our motor, we land at the nearest strato-hanger, "The Fix It or Junk It." The door swings open on its broken hinges and the mechanics, Vic Nunes and Donald Barradus, walk out. Leaving the ship in capable hands, we decide it is time to eat. Walking along Cloud Avenue, we come across Smoky Dave's Eating Place. Entering, we are escorted by two immaculate waiters, Gabriel Holmes and Elton Ashley, to the corner booth.

Ray Pastie, nationally known in the professional basketball circuit for his high scoring (two points a game), calls for his order, but to his astonishment he finds a gold plated invitation from Uncle Sam. The others, turning green with envy, are served black coffee.

With our appetites satisfied, we make our way back to the rocket ship. Plowing through the thick fog, which has accumulated while we were in Smoky Dave's, we enter the hanger, "Oops, wrong building!" Well, let's look around. There standing in the far eastern corner of the building are those two well known French fashion designers, the Mademoiselles

Ann Andrade and Frances Openshaw. After viewing their shop, we all give order for our new planet ensembles. Alex King and his able assistants, Robert Violette, Richard Wareing and Jean Cournoyer, take our measurements and set to work on our uniforms of super lacron. This material is supposed to keep in the heat and keep out the cold.

Attired in our new baggy clothes, we finally reach the hangar. While we have been on our tour, much excitement has occurred aboard the ship. There we find the Special Investigators, Robert Hardy and Robert Crumley, Chief of Police, Anthony Paulino and Sergeant Paul Rousseau all running around like freed lions. We never find out whether it is a case of espionage or sabotage they are trying to prevent.

Out comes that Sophisticated Miss of 1962, Miss Ruth Garlington, with handsome Ronald Besso as her escort and trailing behind is her pet mouse, "Heliotrope."

Everything settled, we take off for our next stop — MARS. As we fly by a fluffy white cloud, we get a glimpse of that once angelic cheerleader, Constance Marcelino, now Mrs. ? ? ? ? ? She always said she wanted peace and quiet.

We finally reach our destination. Gazing around we ask ourselves, "Is this Mars?" Having expected to see no one, we are amazed to find an enormous crowd awaiting us. Among our welcomers are Marjorie Buckles, William Butler, Robert Morris, The Johnson Twins, Myrtle and Margaret gazing at us with surprise. It must be the new outfits. Bouncing along to greet us with the key to Mars, is Theodora Bessette and Arthur Tremblay, King and Queen of the planet.

The bugler, John Brogden, sounds off the "Cry of the Wild Goose" and around the corner comes a block-long limousine. The front driver is no other than Joseph Benevides and swinging the tail end of this fabulous car is Ann Martin. We are taken to the Planet Auditorium where Rita Gwozdz is still trying to sell those excess tickets from Keith's Theatre. Upon entering, we spot that famous judge of beauty contests, David "Romeo" Oliver, still working at his favorite pastime.

Edna Donaghy, mistress of ceremonies, informs us that it is time for a modernistic version of the Charleston, danced by Albert Correia and Jean Bastien, Robert Bland and Phyllis Brightman, Joseph Santos and Bessie Lopes and last but not least Frank Sylvia dancing with the broom. (What happened to your partner?)

After being entertained by this new colony on Mars, we are taken about the planet to view the sights. We become homesick and soon realize we can never become adjusted to life on Mars. After a forty-eight hour visit, we again board our super-sonic rocket and dive for our dear planet, Earth.

Class Will

Class Will

We, the members of the Senior Class of 1952 of New Bedford Vocational High School, City of New Bedford, Bristol County, Commonwealth of Massachusetts, being of sound mind and memory do hereby, solemnly make our last will and testament.

We hereby bequeath the following: To Mr. Mackintosh, we leave our deepest appreciation for his kind and understanding ways.

To Miss Early, we leave our thanks for her help and interest throughout our four years at Vocational High.

To the faculty, we leave our unending gratitude for helping us to have a better future.

To our advisors, Mrs. Cameron, Mr. Wilson, Miss Goggin, Mr. Norton, and Mr. Foley, we leave our heartfelt appreciation for the help and guidance that they so unselfishly gave us.

Louis Sylvia leaves the foremanship of the Machine Shop to Tony Pedras.

Geri Avellar leaves a pillow for a lucky senior who would like to sleep comfortably in Psychology next year.

Arthur Trembly leaves counting the times they didn't catch him.

Janet Sowle leaves with Mrs. Cameron's ruffle attachment still lingering on her curtains.

Mary Antunes leaves the telephone box at the store empty of nickles to the next senior who can afford it.

Bob Bland leaves a year's subscription of the Boston Post to Mr. Norton.

Theodora Bessette leaves wishing she could take John Brown with her.

John Walker leaves his ambition to David Goulart.

Marilyn Ouimet leaves skipping Algebra Class to the next senior who can get away with it.

Stuart Seddon leaves Mr. Croft the memories of the best senior class he'll ever have.

Eunice Hacking leaves waving her diploma.

Franklin Ollivierre leaves the teachers looking for a new target.

Gertrude Cathcart leaves an empty seat in the Mattapoisett bus.

Al Correia leaves still hoping to be an electrician.

Sophie Sobolewski leaves with pleasant memories.

Victor Nunes leaves a can of sand soap and a towel to some lucky seniors.

Myrtle Johnson leaves her wallet to anyone who can find it.

Bill Norse leaves Mr. Baker a happy man.

Margaret Johnson will leave as fast as her feet will carry her.

James Moore leaves his heckling and agitating of classmates to some senior.

Constance Marcelino leaves her position as head cheerleader to Eugenia Cruz. Good luck Eugenia.

Ray Dupont leaves Ernest Frechette to haunt some other senior.

Anita Babineau leaves taking along a brand new brother, Stan Dudek.

David Lawrence leaves because his jailors have freed him.

Cynthia Shkolnick leaves for Framingham without fear of missing the 7:30 bus in the morning.

Robert Thompson leaves with everything that's movable.

Lumina Lafleur leaves by jet propulsion. So long, Mina.

Frank Sylvia leaves with all his pockets will hold.

Stephanie Gula leaves taking the discussion periods in the Recreation Room with her.

David Oliver leaves all the young ladies for his brother to tease.

Ann Martin leaves being the only married woman in the class.

Dennis Henzel leaves because he is being pushed.

Rita Gwozdz leaves the honor of being Treasurer of the G. A. A. to some lucky senior.

George Rogers leaves hoping someone else will pester Tony Pedros.

Edna Donaghy leaves the chemistry room to some poor senior.

Gordon Beale leaves Mr. Mackintosh with a large tape bill.

Lucille Motta leaves Mr. Norton with "My Buddy" on his mind.

Ray Pastie leaves his four figured slide rule to some lucky senior.

Kathleen Kruczek leaves with happy remembrances of the fun she had after the football rallies???

Rene Ravignon leaves Bobby Morris to haunt someone else.

Ann Andrade leaves her position of Traffic Chief to a deserving senior. Best of luck!

Alexander King leaves his checks, locker, and memories.

Frances Openshaw leaves following a certain electrician.

Paul Rousseau leaves with all he can take, all he wants now is the machines.

Alzada Martel leaves all the unsolved questions to the curious senior who wants to know everything.

Jack Hanson leaves Mr. Wareing's Trade Science Classes to anyone who can stay awake in them.

Rosalie DaLuz leaves some lucky senior the opportunity to drive Mrs. Cameron crazy.

Robert Violette leaves the anvil in Mr. Fuller's shop at rest.

Bessie Lopes leaves the Tea Room for some new senior to slave in.

Gabe Holmes leaves his position of removing chairs after graduation to the last of the McCoys.

Shirley Hamer leaves never having learned the art of smoking.

Joe Santos leaves all his overtime to some deserving senior.

Pat Ratajack leaves her rest periods in the nurse's office to any lucky person who thinks she can get away with it.

Joe Benevides leaves by the skin of his teeth, a three and one half year man.

Patricia Lundrigan goes leaving Hamlet and Macbeth to William Shakespeare.

Floyd Carr leaves all his school problems to Frank Reale.

Gayle Kizer leaves hoping for a happy future with Dick. Best of luck!

Bill Butler leaves his sneaky ways to any senior that can get away with them.

Joyce Cruz leaves her congratulations to any lucky senior who can get away with taking Mrs. Oldfield's cookies.

Richard Camillo leaves thinking of the few times he was caught skipping, and also the many times he wasn't.

Jean Bastien leaves taking every little piece of paraphernalia that belongs to her with her.

Fred Wareing leaves his radio jobs to anyone who wants them.

Bob Hardy leaves any senior the familiar cry "Hum—Paul Parrot."

Barbara Gomes leaves her mistakes in sewing to some unfortunate senior.

Phil Lefebvre leaves the seniors the headaches of roof framing.

Lucille Lopes leaves hoping for a happy future with J. A.

Robert Morris leaves Tony Pedras to go alone to the teacher's barbecues.

George Machado leaves his brain to John "Buckets" Palys.

Marjorie Buckles leaves with a famous saying on her mind. "Don't forget to put the baking powder in the cakes."

Stanley Dudek leaves Pastie and Moore to find their own answers of Friday tests.

Joan Gibbs leaves her job of sweeping the floor at the store to some lucky senior.

Elton Ashley, Jr. leaves his seat in class to a senior.

Ruth Garlington leaves the typing of the yearbook to some other senior.

Ernest Vohnoutka leaves an empty penquin wrapper to Mr. W——y.

Albert DeSouza leaves the next four years to some eager freshman.

Jean Cournoyer leaves tired and happy.

Thomas Stone leaves his overalls to Albert Forgue.

Anthony Paulino leaves the carrying of the movie camera to Correia.

Finally, the Senior Class leave their best wishes to the entire faculty and student body.

In witness thereof, we set our hand, seal and signature on this nineteenth day of June in the year of our Lord Nineteen Hundred and Fifty-Two.

Signed, sealed and declared by the class of 1952 of the New Bedford Vocational High School to be their last Will and Testament.
